Cooperative Coparenting Group

This group offers valuable information about the process of separation and divorce as well as practical skills necessary to create a thriving two-household family.

Your Family Can Benefit From...

- Committing to developing and sustaining a coparenting relationship
- Allowing your children to love both parents
- Changing roles
- Personal realignment
- Managing your and your child's anger
- Effectively navigating conflict
- Negotiating agreements

Participants are provided a free book for parents going through separation or divorce with the topics to be covered throughout the group.
